View SE across village, 2018

This recent aerial view of the village shows:

- how it is laid out around the Great Green (1624) below (to the left of) the parish church; the historic manorial site of the Castle is off screen to the right
- how the terrace is the dominant architectural form, with four historic examples and three modern ones
- how trees and hedges grew up in the centre of the village after the St John estate sold up
- how the village sits along a terrace on the valley side with the river Ouse just off picture at the top.
