

40-42 The Avenue after renovation, 2006

Formerly 28 Bletsoe, the building had suffered a fire. Of probably 17th century origins this timber-framed cottage is one of a rather cramped group that predated the more systematic 18th and 19th century estate policy of building or adapting larger rows of terraces.

(David Baker)